VOYAGE ACROSS THE FAR PACIFIC

INTERESTINGLY DESCRIBED BY REV. ROBERT McMULLIN WHO GOES AS A MISSIONARY

The Lebanon Enterprise has just published extracts from the diary of Rev. Robert J. McMullen and wife, formerly Miss Emma Poffett, who recently sailed to China to become missionaries. As Mr. McMullen taught here and both are very well known here, the story of their voyage across the Pacific will be interesting to all.

The captain and officers were English and the crew chiefly Japanese and Chinese, who spoke broken English. There were fifty-two first-class passengers, most of them bound for Manila via Hong Kong, and they were employed in the government service. A lady from Columbia, Tenn., the wife of a physician, is going to reside with her husband who has charge of the leper colony in Manila.

On the third day at sea we encountered quite a storm, and the mountain like waves broke entirely over our ship. The captain stood on the bridge nearly all night and by daylight the wind moderated. Of the fifty-two passengers only seven appeared at breakfast next morning. I am glad to say I was the only one who did.

On the sixth day we reached Honolulu. Our first glimpse of land was the northern coast of Molokai, the leper colony. A tongue of land just out from the island, embracing some 5,000 acres, which is surrounded on three sides by the sea and separated from the main land by a precipitous wall of rock some 500 feet high. About a thousand lepers live in two separate villages. At the entrance of Honolulu harbor a yellow flag was hoisted and the steamer stopped until several health officers came aboard and scanned the passengers who were assembled in the dining saloon. They were soon satisfied we had no contagious diseases aboard and gave the captain clean papers. Soon we were at the dock which was thronged by a motley crowd of men of various nationalities many in their shirt sleeves and wearing straw hats; the women all wore mother hoods and the children a single garment. The crowd seemed happy and all were shouting, "Aloha! Aloha!" (welcome, welcome!). Six of us got into an automobile and took a run through the city which is well named the "Paradise of the Pacific". No description is adequate. Honolulu must be seen to be appreciated. The avenues of floral palms, the profusion of beautiful flowers of every hue, the orange shrub vine and tree in this at most tropical island, the delicate fragrance on every breeze, the artistic homes hidden away among clambering vines; mammoth ferns the groves of palms and bananas and the beautiful palace grounds with magnificent wide spreading banyan trees and the extensive botanical gardens combine to make Honolulu even more known as the "Paradise of the Pacific" than it is.

Electric car lines run zigzag up the beautiful bluffs and the majestic sea, as the city and ocean from a glorious panorama which utterly beggars description. It is said there is not a grander view in the world. In the harbor lie the ships of many nations, while the harbor's encircling reefs are marked far and near by lines of snow white foam, contrasting beautifully with the ocean's varying tints of emerald and blue. On either hand are lovely valleys green with crops of Hawaii's staple taro, a large carrot shaped root, ten or twelve inches long, and from five to eight inches in diameter, which is sliced dried and ground for making bread.

Nuuanu, the principal street, is broad, well paved and well lighted and lined with stores and residences, some of which are very handsome and embellished in a profusion of gorgeous flowers. Our day's outing will be remembered as one of novel interest and pleasure. We returned to our steamer only ten minutes before sailing for Yokohama, Japan, 5,000 miles distant. In the main passages we, on the steamer, is a large map showing our course, and a little flag each day at noon indicates our whereabouts. We usually make about 200 nautical miles every twenty-four hours. We are now two days from Yokohama and receive wireless messages from Tokyo daily. At noon a daily bulletin of twelve pages is issued on board, chiefly advertisements weather reports with wireless messages interspersed. The wireless station is on the ship and at night the flashes of electricity are very distinct when messages are received. We will leave the steamer at Yokohama and go by rail to Tokyo, Korea and Nankai where we will catch our steamer. We are due in Shanghai March 4.

We find the captain and officers very courteous and pleasant, and have had a very pleasant journey. Ashore for Yokohama cries the steamer.

HUSTONVILLE

James Woods and family of Stanford spent Sunday in our city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. McCormack on West Main street.

Mr. Matt Engleman for several years a prosperous merchant at Mt. Salem sold his entire stock of goods to Mrs. M. McCarty and he has gone to Somerset to reside.

Geneva is still forging to the front and business is good. An up-to-date stock of millinery has just been opened up there and spring hats are going like hot cakes. New residences are going up and the demand is still increasing.

The blood hounds were called to a place near Burnside Saturday where a barn and eighteen mules and horses were burned. The trail was readily taken and followed without a bobble a few miles to a residence. The sheriff being satisfied with the work took the party in charge and the jury will do the rest.

J. J. Allen is the fortunate owner of a cow that without extra care, or churning all the milk makes eleven to twelve pounds of butter every week and she is not for sale.

A family arranged and most interesting program has been prepared for each day of the convention. Every body cordially invited.

Rural Route No. 1, going over the standard mileage of 24 miles will be in list of next month returning from the Artes Basin residence showing the route one mile as per request of department.

Dr. O. S. Williams has returned from the east and can be found in his office during business hours ready to serve all patients that call.

W. S. Willis will preach next Sunday morning at Hustonville on "Fidel" and at Willow Grove church in the afternoon. No night service.

Our city should by all means have a stock law until the work of concrete sidewalks are completed. The new walk just laid in front of the Christian church was badly damaged by cows and hogs walking on it before it had hardened sufficiently.

The many friends here of Mr. Ben H. Ashley formerly of our city are anxiously waiting to welcome him and his handsome bride to his former old Kentucky home. His bride was a Miss Cornelia of Kewanee, Ill., and the reigning belle of that wide awake city.

C. Reed McCormack so far this season holds the honor of champion fisherman. He sent home part of his Tuesday's catch of green and black bass and they well filled a half bushel measure of bass weighing from two to four pounds.

One of the best shows that travels the south will hold the boards at Alcorn's Opera house all next week. Their acts are second to none on the road and must be seen to be properly appreciated. Another very attractive feature is that general admission tickets will only be 10 cents each. This certainly will fill the house all week.

Five rows of front seats are reserved. Change of program each night. Secure tickets so as to avoid the rush.

Comrade Zack Deik who for several years lived near Salem church in the Green river valley passed quietly over the river and to that great beyond on Sunday night April 23rd. He was in his 74th year and leaves many friends and relatives that mourn his loss. He was a gallant soldier during the Civil War and participated in several hard fought battles.

Geneva is actually growing so fast that houses are occupied before they are finished. There are not enough teams close at hand to move the people that are waiting to come.

The new buildings at Elkhart Springs are about completed and are a decided improvement over all the others. Everything is evidencing the most successful season in its history. Due notice of their opening will be given in these columns in the near future. These people deserve a liberal patronage and they will treat their guests much better than any former owners of these springs. Give them a trial and you will be happy.

O'Rear-Sauley Nuptials a Brilliant Social Event at the State Capital Tuesday Evening

Frankfort, Ky., Apr. 27.—Where followed by the matrons of honor Never was the fragrance beauty or Mrs. Louis Haskett, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Robert L. Coleman, of Mt Sterling, carrying out the same color of gold and blue in their performed here on last Tuesday evening, April 25th, which united in wedlock's holy bonds, Ensign Richard Caswell Sauley, of the United States Navy, and son of the late Judge Michael Sauley, of Stanford, and Miss Helen O'Rear, the charming daughter of Judge E. C. O'Rear, of this city, a member of Kentucky's highest tribunal, the Court of Appeals.

The romance which always follows where the gallant young men of the army or navy are concerned, was beautifully interwoven in this wedding of one of Kentucky's fairest daughters and one of her most brilliant and gallant sons. It was a full military affair, with the groom and his groomsmen in the dress regalia of officers of the Atlantic fleet, and the exquisite bridesmaids, their gowns and garlands, in the gold blue of the Naval Academy.

All Frankfort turned out for the glad occasion, while many of the foremost families of the state came from far and near to attend the brilliant nuptials, and reception to the palatial home of Judge and Mrs. O'Rear, a short distance off the inter-urban line on the Versailles pike, five miles out of Frankfort.

The hour set for the affair was half past seven o'clock but long before the appointed hour the Methodist church was filled with fashionably dressed women and handsome men, and the receiving party stood before the church and altar decorations high baskets of hydrangea spirea were white and green the chancel quills and smilax. The chandeliers having potted palms and ferns were draped with smilax and in the plecty covering it while huge masses of Easter lilies mingled with the green festoons of Southern smilax stood Ensign and Mrs. Sauley, Judge and Mrs. Edward C. O'Rear, mother of the groom, Mrs. Sallie Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Carter, of West Liberty, Mrs. Armstrong, of Knoxville, Tenn., Mr. and Mrs. Stoops of Mt. Sterling. Mrs. O'Rear was handsome in an Irish point lace gown over emerald green satin. Mrs. Carter wore an emerald green satin with black chiffon and jet overdress. Mrs. B. F. Carter, the mother of the groom, was handsomely dressed in black satin with dull jet trimming. Mrs. Whaley was becomingly gowned in black chamoisee satin with beaded yoke and sleeves. Miss Leona Carter wore a gown of pink crepe de chine over messaline. Mrs. Armstrong in a pink marquisette over pink messaline was handsome and Mrs. Stoops wore a robe of white marquisette over emerald green satin with black velvet trimmings.

The dining room was beautiful and here the bride's table had covers of twenty-four. The center piece was a large plaque of yellow roses and white lilies. Encircling this were crystal chandelabra holding yellow tapers. Loaded in yellow at either end of the table were single crystal candlesticks with tapers of yellow tied with blue tulle bows. The silver and cut glass complements holding yellow rose mints and other confections.

The entire bridal party were seated around the board and a lunch of Country Club croquettes, pimento cheese balls, stuffed tomatoes with mayonnaise dressing beaten biscuit and wafers, individual ices and cakes were served by Mrs. Charles Saffell most beautifully.

The bride's cake was a large white one with lilies of the valley tied with candy ribbon ornamenting the top. Tapers along the entire length of a large hallway upstairs bore the bridal presents, which in number and attractiveness have not been equalled in Kentucky in many years. Hundreds of guests attended the reception to shower congratulations and good wishes upon the happy and popular young pair.

Later in the evening, Ensign and Mrs. Sauley drove to Lexington in an automobile, and left Wednesday morning for New York, where they were attendants at the wedding of Ensign Shafroth, a shipmate of Ensign Sauley, and a son of the Governor of Colorado, to an eastern belle. They will spend their honeymoon in the east, until May 10th when Ensign Sauley will have to report to his ship the Battleship Kansas for a cruise to the Baltic sea. Mrs. Sauley will return to Kentucky to visit her parents at Frankfort, and her husband's relatives at Stanford, until he is back from his cruise in July.

SECOND GAME OF SEASON HERE

WILL BE PLAYED SATURDAY AGAINST SUE BENNETT MEMORIAL—C. U. SCARED

The second ball game of the season on the local grounds will be played here Saturday when, the strong nine from the Sue Bennett Memorial Institute at London will come for a game against the High School club. Stanford is going after big game this season, and some of the boys are putting up high class ball.

Coach Bohannon returned home to Frankfort last week. His work was good what there was of it, but the rainy weather knocked the boys out of so much practice while he was here that they have not gotten the form which they showed last year.

The high school team gave the strong Central University team the scare of its life last Monday when it played in Danville. While the local boys were defeated by 8 to 4, until the seventh inning they were in front and it looked like they had the collegians beaten. Pitcher Embry had such heavy sluggers as Seelbach on his staff and struck out a total of ten men. Bum support caused the defeat of the local lads.

It was a close game from start to finish. Not until the eighth inning was the game clinched by C. U. The University team took the field at 4:15 with S. H. S., at the bat, Waters, the first man up got a hit, on the arm stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch by Tolin. Dozier was then presented with base on balls. McCarty laid down a nice sacrifice, advancing Dozier to second, Coleman and Singleton hit easy ones, to Tolin and died on way to first base.

Dasher, for C. U., led off with a nice hit through short stop. Foxworthy drove a hot liner to Dozier, and was put out by Dozier at second. Wilkerson reached first on an error but was forced out at second, Dasher scored on fielders choice, when Wilkerson was thrown out at second.

In the second inning Penny was hit by pitcher. Hill fanned. Bright also was touched in side by Tolin. Embry sacrificed advancing both runners one base. Penny scoring, Waters knocked an easy grounder to Dasher and was out at first.

In the latter half of the second inning, with the bases full, Embry gave Dasher a base on balls, forcing Dasher to score.

C. U. scored once in each of the two following innings, on well bunched hits.

Stanford got together again in the sixth, Coleman scoring on C. U.'s error. Seelbach batted for Dasher in latter half of sixth, but was unable to touch Embry's speedy curves.

C. U. made three runs in the eighth on good hitting and bad fielding by the Stanford boys.

Stanford had another fine chance to score in the ninth but couldn't make it. The game ended with C. U. leading with a score of 8 to 4.

Considering that it was a college team playing against a high school team, the S. H. S. made a fine showing. A little hard luck in fielding cost them the game. Their batting far out classed that of C. U., but they were not given proper support. McCarty played a good game at first and was also there with "the sticks". Coleman showed much improvement in fielding, over the last game.

The team has lost the last two games played but are practicing daily that they might defeat the strong St. Mary's Academy team at the High School park May 2nd.

A DANGEROUS EVIL.

The most disgraceful and dangerous agency for evil in the commonwealth is the Third House which convenes simultaneously with the General Assembly and remains in session until the gavel falls in both of the other Houses. extermination would accomplish more real and lasting good for the Commonwealth than any measure which has been suggested. It is, however, the most difficult problem with which governments have to deal. It has existed, time out of mind in our governments, state and national. At Washington our law makers grow rich. Poor men enter Congress and soon become millionaires. The graft is not as great in the state as it is in the national assembly, because the evil rule is wrought with less expenditure. Our statutes denounce the bribery or attempted bribery of a legislature as a felony, punishable by confinement in the penitentiary. But no one has ever been convicted, and it is questionable whether any one ever will be in the nature of things, it is difficult to obtain the evidence, unless some guilty participant in the crime confesses. But even then, the juries will not believe such a witness. This has been demonstrated in the Lorimer case in Illinois.

The lobbyists and bribe-givers are all as well known in Frankfort as any member of the General Assembly. They fill the corridors of the capitol and are constantly seen on the floor of each House, talking to members in their seats, or when a bill, in which they are interested, is about to be voted upon, acting as "whips" to assemble the members corralled by them. The members of the General Assembly see what transpires, and yet it is allowed to go on, session after session. They know, and the people know, that bills for the public good are constantly defeated by these bribers and bills which are often evil become laws by their machinations.

Declarations in platforms will only aid to create public sentiment against this growing evil. The real, and it seems the only remedy, lies with the people. Never elect any man who can be bribed. The voters are often deceived but in some instances, this deception has been practiced more than once. Everybody seems to understand, except the voters themselves, the nature and character of the legislator elected. He is a good fellow, or has had large experience. This seems to be thought sufficient. Until public sentiment demands more than this lobbyists will flourish and bribery continue as in the past. The people only can correct this evil by sternly scrutinizing the character of candidates for the legislature, and refusing to nominate or elect any man with the smell of fire on his garments. Make the position of representative one of high honor. See that he is not only honorable, but also that he is capable of understanding the laws we have and the effect of those that may be proposed. Members are sometimes seen at Frankfort who are not capable of making good road overseers. Raise the standard in these respects and bribery will be banished, our laws will be better and the session of the legislature shorter.

Edward J. McDermott, one of the leading attorneys in Louisville and a high class democrat in every way, has announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Many of the leading democrats of the state believe with McDermott on the ticket its success will be assured beyond all doubt in November. They say that the slogan "Mack and Mack" would be a winner.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That law of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases. Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Lesson V.—Second Quarter
 April 30, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Jonah iii, 5, to iv, 11.—Memory Verses, Chapter iv, 10, 11.—Golden Text, Matt. xxviii, 19. Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The committee calls this a foreign missionary lesson, and it is certainly a grand missionary story, reaching on even to the kingdom when it shall be fully seen that "salvation is of the Lord" (iii, 9). With this saying of Jonah I have in my mind the words of the Lord Jesus to the woman of Samaria, "Salvation is of the Jews" (John vi, 12). Putting the two together we have the great truth that salvation is of the Lord through the Jews. This is and will be seen to be true of all individuals and also of nations. As the redeemed in heaven and on earth owe their redemption to the blood of a Jew, and the nations as such will not be saved till the glory of the Lord is risen upon Israel. Then they shall come to their light and kings to the brightness of his rising (Isa. li, 1-3; xlii, 1-3; xxviii, 6; Jer. xli, 17; Zech. vi, 10-12).

We have in our lesson the only instance, as far as I know, of a whole city penitent. But when Israel shall have had her resurrection from the dead and a nation of Pauls shall go forth into all the world witnessing as he did in the power of the Spirit, knowing all languages and having all wealth at their command, whole nations shall turn to the Lord in true penitence and "all kings shall fall down before him, all nations shall serve him" (Ps. lxxii, 11).

The Lord Jesus spoke of the experience of Jonah in the belly of the fish, his preaching and the repentance of Nineveh, and those who question the truth of the story of Jonah question the veracity of Jesus Christ. It is the work of the devil to question the word of God or the love of God (Matt. xli, 23-41; xvi, 4; Gen. iii, 1-5).

Could there be a more vivid picture of the churches' indifference to the command of Christ in our Golden Text than that of Jonah on this ship? The only man who knew the true God is fast asleep, while the heathen sailors are diligently calling upon their gods. They only found out who he was and why he was there when he was drowning him.

In a certain place we read that Jesus could not be hid (Mark vii, 24), but some who bear the name of Christian seem to hide him quite successfully. Contrast II Cor. iv, 10, 11; ii, 14. Think of Samson and his fatal sleep, Peter, James and John asleep in the presence of great privilege and also of great suffering and consider if you need the question of chapter I, 6, and if so what will your answer be? As to the great fish prepared by the Lord to take care of Jonah I often wonder why people have been so long looking for fishes of the same kind, for the record does not say that the Lord made two great fishes to propagate the species, but that He prepared a great fish.

For aught we know the fish may have died when it finished its ministry to Jonah, as probably did the little fish that brought the coin to Simon Peter. The winds of I, 4; iv, 8, were special winds for the occasion, as were also the gourd and the worm of iv, 6, 7, special preparations for special ministry. I have long rejoiced in the truth of Eph. ii, 10, and firmly believe that all the good works of all the Lord's people are prepared beforehand for them to walk in. It is helpful to say concerning all things, pleasant or unpleasant, "prepared for me by infinite love."

With all Jonah's peculiarities he seems to have been a man full of the word of God, for his prayer in chapter ii is almost wholly Scripture. In the margin of my Bible I note in his prayer nine quotations from or references to the Psalms, besides some from other parts of Scripture. When he did finally start for Nineveh the word of the Lord to him was, "Preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee" (iii, 2). Compare Jer. i, 2; Ezek. ii, 7; Isa. li, 1; II Tim. iv, 2; Acts xiii, 26, and note that our Lord himself said only what the Father told him to say (John xii, 29; xiv, 10; viii, 29).

It would be a great thing and greatly to the glory of God and the good of both speakers and hearers if all preachers and teachers would prove themselves to be "the Lord's messengers in the Lord's message unto the people" (Eph. i, 12). All such might rest assured that His word would always accomplish His pleasure and never return to Him void (Isa. lv).

Jonah was like a man alive from the dead, and His message was the Lord's and not his own, and the people of Nineveh believed God (iii, 5) and turned from their evil ways unto God, and God saw it and did not bring the threatened evil upon them. It would have pleased Jonah better if they repented and he refused at first to obey God (iv, 1-3).

Concerning God's repentance mentioned in chapter iii, 10, and in so many other places in Scripture we must remember that God cannot and never does change His mind about anything, for He knew everything from the beginning (Acts xv, 18), but He does change His mode of procedure, and as God always knew that He would not at that place in history and in that way.

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor. It is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kans., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it on your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a supply free of charge.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation.
